THE US ARMY CHAPLAINCY

The first and foremost duty of the Army Chaplain is to minister as a servant of the Lord to ensure that

Soldiers and their families receive their rights to practice their religious faith and traditions.

The Army community of faith gathers to worship, to grow spiritually, to reflect on journeys past and envision the path ahead. To offer a positive hope for life's many uncertainties, the Chaplain shepherds this diverse community through the job demands, family chaos, and turbulent changes inherent in the military lifestyle.

Many young Soldiers are away from home for the first time. They experience all the excitement of freedom, but are vulnerable to all the temptations contrary to sound living. The Chaplain stands ready to help these young Soldiers chart their way through the maze of moral and ethical decisions which they face.

The Chaplain is a person with a shepherd's heart to comfort, minister and stand by Soldiers and their families in times of joy and sorrow.

The Chaplaincy is a team of skilled pastors, priests, and Chaplain Assistants prepared to serve the Army community to the glory of God.
